HOW TO CREATE SQUARE CORNERS

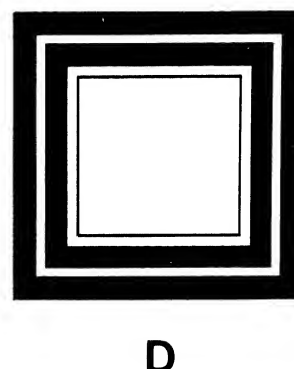

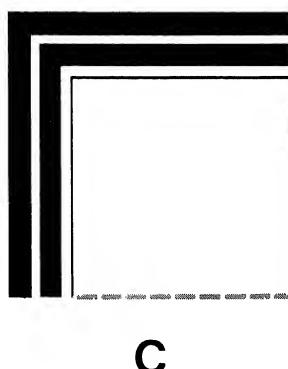

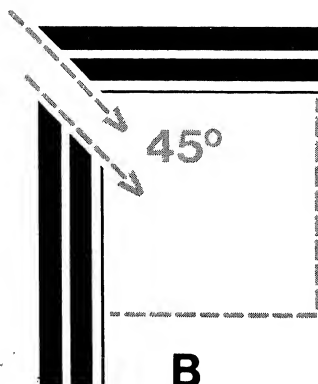

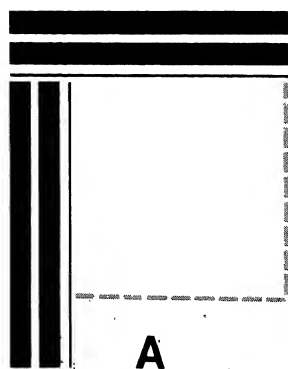

If, instead of using one of the decorative corners or turns in the book, you want to create a simple square-cornered frame, follow this procedure.

A. Rule your artboard lightly with pencil for the outside dimension of the frame you want. For the example shown below, a 1½" x 1½" square, cut four 1½"-long strips of border. (If you are making a rectangular border, say 3" x 6", then cut two 3" strips and two 6" strips.)

B. Without overlapping any of the strips, put them in position, then cut all corners using a 45° metal triangle.

C. Paste down all four strips in final position.

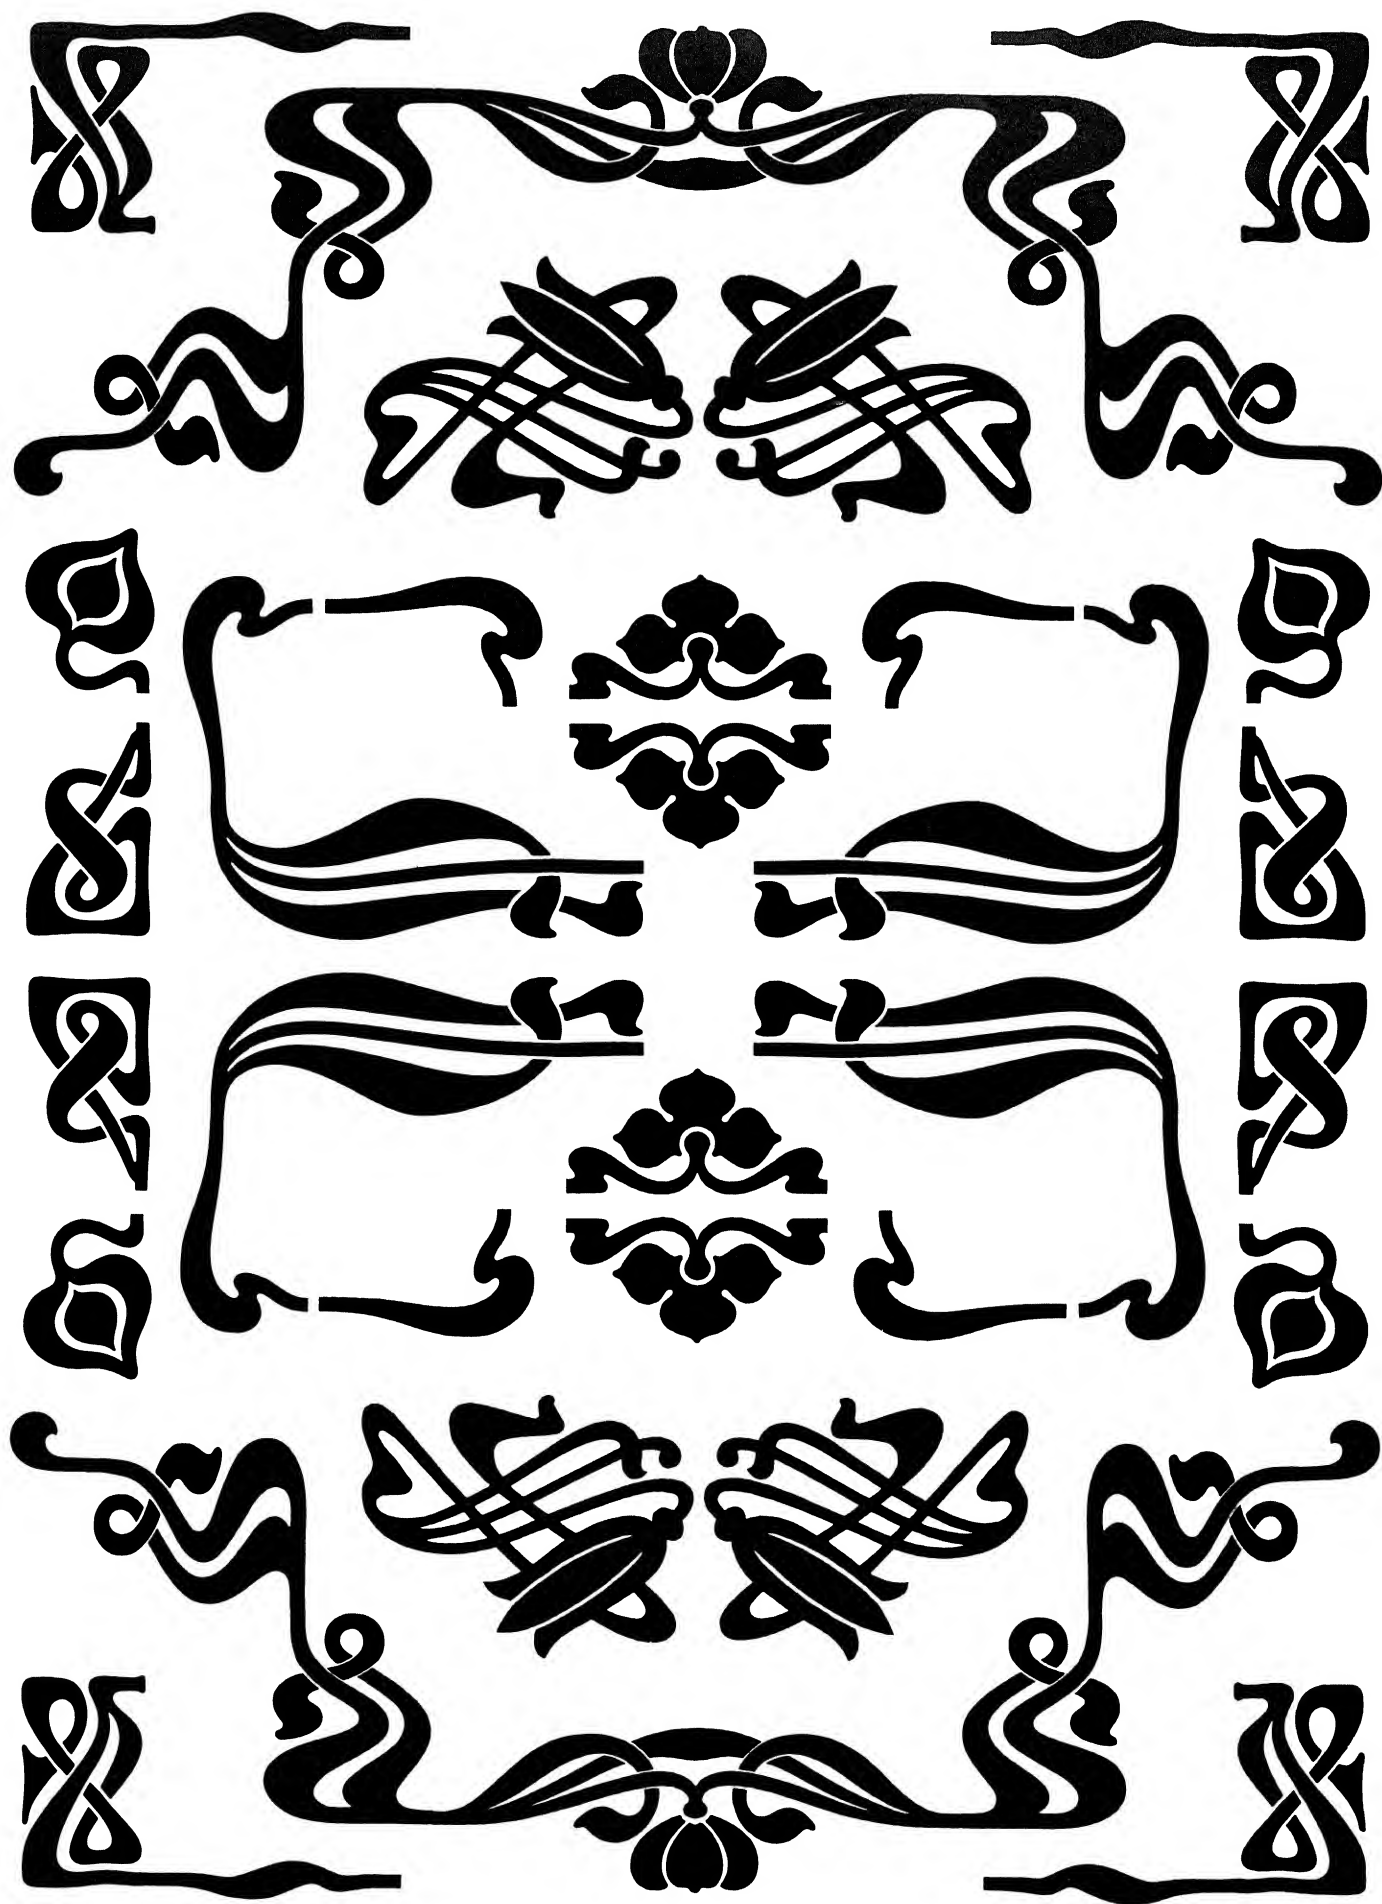

D. Use black ink to touch up and fill in the cut lines,
if necessary.

READY-TO-USE BORDERS TED MENTEN

Borders can often be essential elements in graphic design. But up till now, securing the right border has usually been an expensive, hit-or-miss proposition.

This collection offers hundreds of both traditional and unusual borders in a wide array of sizes, shapes, and styles: Victorian, Art Nouveau, Art Deco, contemporary, etc. Each two-page spread has one page of decorative corners in a single style, and one page of compatible rules; you can create the frame or cartouche you need in any size or shape.

All the illustrations are directly and immediately useable without statting. Everything included is copyright-free. The art is printed in crisp, black images on one side only of glossy white paper.

Original Dover (1979) publication. 32 plates. 64pp. printed on one side only. 8¼ x 11. Paperbound.

THE DOVER CLIP ART SERIES

This book is a title in the Dover Clip Art Series. The copyright-free books in this series present original and diversified "clip art" for the immediate, practical use of advertisers, graphic designers, and craftspeople.

Printed in crisp, black images on one side only of glossy white paper, the illustrative material may be cut out and used directly, without statting. The 32 sheets in each volume are more varied and attractive, easier to use, and far less expensive than any comparable sheets now being sold.
